TIU WORNI MONUMENT.

In answer to a resolution of the Board respecting the Worth monument, the Street Commissioner states that in the year 1837 the sum of $23,500 was appropriated, and in 1858 the sum of $10,000 was appropriated, and in 1858 the sum of $10,000 was appropriated, for a monument to Major General Worth. It appears from the Comptroller's report for the year 1858, that $14,155 50 was spent in that year. There is therefore an unexpended balance of $9,344 50. The contract for crecting railing and flagging sidewalks around the monument was advertised October 6, 1858, and the fact was communicated to the lowest bidders, and the fact was communicated to the Common Council, and by them referred to a committee, and the award was passed by the Board and approved by the Mayor. Notwithstanding the fact that the time during which the contractor could have been compelled to execute his contract had expired, and the cost of material to be used had in the meantime increased, Messrs. Cornell have taken the contract, on the understanding that they cute his contract and expired, and the cost of material to be used had in the meantime increased, Messrs. Cornel have taken the contract, on the understanding that they shall not be held strictly to the specified time. The Street Commissioner is informed that there is little doubt that the work will be completed within the specified time. THE WINGENER OF PLANDS STRUET. It also appears that the commencement of the fraudulent issues of the stock by Schuyler was long previous to the time when the directors have assumed that Schuyler made the first fraudulent issues of stock. Whether any of the stock so fraudulently issued prior to 1635 found its way upon the transfer books of the company is not distinctly stated; but it does appear that as early as 1856 the stock ledger of the company showed in the accounts of Schuyler, and of the firm of R. & G. Schuyler, a large excess of overissue of shares over and above the balance shown by the debit and credit sides of the account, exceeding more than a thousand shares. It is also stated that a separation of the stock which comabove the balance shown by the debit and credit sides of the account, exceeding more than a thousand shares. It is also stated that a separation of the stock which com-menced in 1853 must be defective and erroneous. Other facts are also stated in the affidavit tending to establish the fact that the separation of genuine and spurious stock, as made by order of the Board of Directors, and upon which the payment of the two dividends have been based, was erroneous, and might extend to nearly 1,200 shares of the stock. It is shown on the part of the defendants that from an examination of the stock account of Schuwler in the stock which the payment of the two dividends have been based, was erroneous, and might extend to nearly 1,200 shares of the stock.

It is shown on the part of the defendants that from an examination of the stock account of Schuyler in the stock ledger, the debit and credit sides balanced, with the exception of four shares standing to the credit of Schuyler; but it does not appear that any such examination has been nude as will authorize the statement that none of the spurious stock issued by Schuyler previous to the year 1853 had been transferred on the books of the company. From the facts stated on the part of the plaintiffs, it must be apparent that a more thorough examination of the stock ledger, and of the transfers of atock previous to 1853, is necessary before the true character of the stock held by those to whom the company propose to pay dividends can be ascertained. If in no other way, the title to all the stock from the original subscribers can be traced through those to whom such stock has been from time to time transferred, until it is found in the possession of the present holders; when that title is thus ascertained, there can be but little difficulties the stock has one suggested in the affidavits used on this motion; but the mere statement of such difficulties only shows the propriety of using more caution, and of making more thorough examinations before the company about decide to pay the profits of their business to those who may hereafter be found not emitted to share therein; and if such doubt and uncertainty exists, it only exhabits more clearly the impropriety of making any such distribution of profit until, by a judicial decision, the character of the respective shares of stock is established. It is objected, however, to the granting of this injunction, that fine complaint does not show any particular danger of loss to the plaintiffs beyond the paying improperly a sum of money, and that for this an action against the company from the paying improperly a sum of money, and that for his an action right to the present time. There is no doubt as to their right to the dividend now declared, and as there are no allegations that any fraudulent stock was issued prior to 1850, there seems to be no good reason for restraining the payment of the dividends upon any stock which is now held by persons who held it prior to 1850, and have not transferred their stock at any time since that period.

With these exceptions, the injunction is continued as to all other stockholders, and the directors are prolibited from making any future dividend on the stock of the corporation until, by the decision of some court of competent juristitution, it shall be established who are the genuine stockholders in the company, or until the further order of the Court herein.

SELLING NEGROES IN ILLINOIS.—Recently, a piece of animated property called George Bowlin, was put up on the block at Carrollton, Greene county, Illinois, and sold to the highest bidder. His offence was a violation of the law which prohibits the immigration of negroes into the State. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Six:—In your issue of August 20, you copy from the Pittisburg (Pa.) Journal, a lengthy account of operations connected with the Monongahela Valley Bank, which has my name disgracefully connected therein, greatly to my disadvantage and true position, which is a malicious altempt to irreparably injure my reputation.

Being absent from the city for the restoration of my health, I did not see the article you published until to-day which I regret, as such netarious faisehoods, ingeniously circulated, may be credited by those who have no means of hadging to the contrary, and even now I cannot do my self the justice in your columns that the truth demands, on account of my illness, and the injunctions of my physicians to refrain from any exciting controversy at present. But briefly, I desire to say that instead of my being positioned as this exparie statement represents me, as wanting money to sustain the bank, and suppressing the facts of their illegal operations, I will inform you and the public that not one lota or a shadow of truth is contained in their unsupported assertions, but, on the contrary, I published more than six months ago (as the files of my publications will show) nearly all the facts connected with this forgery transaction and the particulars of the organization of the Monongahela Valley Bank; also republished, from time to time, the same, with more full accounts, as information was subsequently obtained. The public are inhebited to my efforts for the investigations instigated and prosecuted by Mayor Weaver, of Pitisburg, after having been suppressed and kept dark from the public nearly one year after their transaction.

Upon my return to the city I shall more minutely vindi coon my return to the city i shall more minutely visid cate my true position, which will bring to light more fact in the history of this Monongaheia Vailey Bank of Penn sylvania, which will set the matter correctly before the public. ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTHDAY OF GENERAL LAPAYETTE .-This event took place Tuesday, and was celebrated in a becoming manner by the Fitty-fifth regiment, Garde La-fayette, Col. Eugene Le Gal, who made a full dress parade on the occasion. At nine o'clock in the morning they proceeded to the foot of Cortland; street where they received the Washington Continentals, of Paterson, N. J., numbering skiry-five men, when the two commands proceeded to the front of the City Hall, in the Park. At this place the Garde Lafayette were to have received a stand of regimental colors from the Common Council, through the hands of Mayor Tiemann, who had a speech prepared for the occasion, but unfortunately the artist had not furnished the colors, and the presentation was in-definitely postponed. The troops, however, were reviewed by his Honor, and made a very creditable display. They then proceeded to Elm Park, Bicomingdate, by the Eighth avenue cars, where they passed the day with their twess and children. In the afternoon a grand banquet was spread out on the lawn in front of the hotel. Twelve tables, with accommodations for eight hundred guess, were quickly filled; and the bounty was of the most unexceptionable character. After dinner, sentiments appropriate to the occasion were proposed, which were responded to by Brigadier General Hall, Colonel Le Gal, Adjuant Finklemer, of New Jersey; Major Le Clerx, and others. The band took an active part in the proceedings, and between the addresses played the "Marseilles," "Washington's March," &c. I have used three bottles within the last three woeks. Before commencing to take the bitters I had not had a natural healthy action of my stomach and bowels for the last three monits, and during that time I had lost fifteen pounds of flesh. In two weeks I have gained five pounds in weight, have had a ravenous appellie, perfect digestion and no symptoms of drapessa or diarrheas. But why call your incomparable preparation bitters. I find it a delightful pungent, aromatic to the taste, and the tangible effects upon the system are a delightful warmth to the stomach and an exhibitanting glow over the whole surface of the body, exciting copious perspiration, without allowed the stomach and an exhibitanting glow over the whole surface of the body, exciting copious perspiration, without allowed the propertion.
